v1 I waited for her, quietly, on the sidelines,
 A tingle through my spine, a trembling heart,
 Through promises untold
 Of secrets to unfold,
 For that's the way that all love stories start;

v2 Believing I was more than just a stranger, Waiting for the things that time would show,
 That when and where was now,
 That who was me somehow,
 For that's the way that some love stories go;

v3 In my wildest dreams she was a lover,
 In my fondest hopes she was a friend,
 But in our dreamy lives
 Reality survives,
 And that's the way that most love stories end.....
