----	--------------------------	--------------------------	----------

v1 Morning light,
The sunshine wanders through the window bright,
To vanquish dreams and render vision clear,
And banish her from here.

v2 Cup of tea,
A steaming kettle, and a mug like me,
To bring the fortitude to face the day,
That takes her clean away.

Br Thank you for these hours,
For human moments simply unsurpassed,
Untarnished by reminders that the time slips fast
Towards the morning light.

v3 Getting dressed,
Reluctant veils that hide a vision blessed,
Leaving just the curtains that the light creeps through,
To steal her now from you.
